

Depression & Low Mood

What is one thing I managed to do today that took more effort than it looked like?

What made today slightly harder, and what made it slightly easier?

What did I need today that I didn't give myself?

When did I feel even briefly more present, interested, connected, or comfortable?

What would I like to tell my therapist about how my energy or motivation has changed since our last session?

